

Girl-trip to South Africa, to help save rhinos together with The Perfect World Foundation!

Join Mikaela and TPWF on a unforgettable women-only trip to South Africa and the biggest rhino orphanage in the world . The Rhino is an endangered animal because of habitat loss and poachers. At this unique project, "Baby Rhino", in South Africa you will get the chance to help wounded and abandoned animals, and learn everything about how to take care of orphaned rhinos. From baby to adult. The center is situated in the beautiful Mpumalanga province, with its thriving mountains, panoramic passes, valleys, rivers, waterfalls and forests. The perfect place to look after baby rhinos!

Project purpose!

The people working at the center are a group of caretakers, dedicated to save african wildlife. An orphaned rhino have a very small chance to survive in the wild without it's mother. The ambition is to help as many animals as possible by preventing poaching, take care of abandoned animals and teach local children visiting the center.

Your role as a volunteer!

At "Baby Rhino" you will get a unique opportunity to work under the supervision of highly trained wildlife professionals, and help them hand rearing orphaned rhinos, monitoring animal behaviour, feeding animals and do some general work at the center. There is a wide selection of animals passing through the sanctuaries doors including lions, giraffes and of course rhinos.

What's included?

- Information package
- Flight ticket (from Sweden)
- Group leader
- Accommodation
- Breakfast, lunch and dinner
- Travel insurance
- Transfer

When, where, how?

Depart: 18 February 2018

Return: 25 February 2018

From: Gothenburg

Spots: 8

Price: 31 900 SEK (3820 USD)

Host: The Perfect World

Foundation in collaboration with
Volunteer Travels

Important note: If you are not travelling from Sweden, the price might change due to flight tickets!

Don't hesitate to take this unique opportunity that for sure will be a life time memory. Please contact Mikaela on +46735108344 or mikaela@thepperfectworld.com to book or for more info!